

Dropped a Dime

KevinSilvia.net

Spent all my nickels for a dime
Wrote this whole song without a rhyme in it and I wrote this whole song without a lie in it
Didn't it seem that way?

Sold all my houses, bought a shack
And my houses ain't never comin back
And I told the whole story without the truth in it
Didn't it seem that way?

And I went quite a way
And the way was torn
We paid they sewed it up
Didn't they seam that way?
I dropped all my money on the ground
I thought I might leave it on the ground
Cause it was the good thing to do
Didn't it seem that way?
